In the World and for the World

August last year was a bit like a film for my extended family; Instead of 'Four Weddings and a Funeral' we had 2 weddings and a funeral!

We are quite a spread out family and often don't manage to see each other very often but last August we gathered three times within one month.

My cousin's wedding came first and then my niece's wedding which was also the day my mum died, and then a week later my mum's funeral. So for our family August has a lot of remembering in it.

I was looking at photos of all three events the other day and thinking what joyful occasions they had been ... even my mum's funeral. My dad was very definite that we were going to celebrate my mum's life; but also that we were going to celebrate what their church had meant to mum and dad because dad felt that without their church community, their lives would have been much poorer.

Mum and dad joined the Methodist chapel in Abingdon when our little family moved from Runcorn 53 years ago when dad's work moved to the area; the community welcomed us as a family and, for mum and dad, the people in the church became the family they had left behind; and the love which the congregation continue to feel for each other is very clear to see.

Whenever I go back to the chapel (which is very infrequently these days) there is always a welcome and I feel very loved and accepted, as if I am back with my family and there are many questions about what is happening to my children; and I ask as many questions because I love hearing all about them and how their families are doing too.

During my mum's funeral service, my dad stood up and gave thanks to God for his church and for their love and support; it was very moving to hear him say how much he had to be thankful for, because he belonged to that community.

All of this has made me think about how important our churches are; about the love we find in them and the love we give to them; about how thankful I am to belong to, not one but, four church communities that are welcoming and caring!

We are fortunate indeed when our churches become extended families, where we can go for support and encouragement and where we can be ourselves. It truly is a reason to give thanks and I pray that our churches will continue to be places where we can find God's love very much in action.

with love and blessings

July 4th Meeting started at 2pm with prayers and Bible Reading followed with the annual Strawberry Tea which was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be on the 5th September in the church rooms at 2pm. All are welcome.

Rita Turner .

The founder of the Mothers Union, Mary Sumner, died on 11th August 1921 at the age of 92.

Mary was educated at home, spoke three foreign languages, and sang well. While in her late teens, on a visit to Rome she met George Sumner, a son of the Bishop of Winchester. It was a well-connected family: George's uncle became Archbishop of Canterbury, and his second cousin was William Wilberforce. Mary and George married in July 1848, soon after his ordination. They moved to Old Alresford in 1851 and had three children:

Margaret, Louise and George. Mary dedicated herself to raising her children and supporting her husband's ministry by providing music and Bible classes.

When in 1876 Mary's eldest daughter Margaret, gave birth, Mary was reminded how difficult she had found the burden of motherhood. Soon she decided to hold a meeting to which she invited the local women not only of her own class, but also all the village mothers. Her aim was to find out if women could be brought together to offer each other prayer and mutual support in their roles as wives and mothers. That meeting at Old Alresford Rectory was the inaugural meeting of the Mothers' Union.

For 11 years, the Mothers' Union was limited to Old Alresford. Then in 1885 the Bishop of Newcastle invited Mary to address the women churchgoers of the Portsmouth Church Congress, some 20 miles away. Mary gave a passionate speech about the poor state of national morality, and the vital need for women to use their vocation as mothers to change the nation for the better. A number of the women present went back to their parishes to found mothers' meetings on Sumner's pattern. Soon, the Mothers' Union spread to the dioceses of Ely, Exeter, Hereford, Lichfield and Newcastle. By 1892, there were already 60,000 members in 28 dioceses, and by 1900 there were 169,000 members. By the time Mary died in 1921, she had seen MU cross the seas and become an international organisation of prayer and good purpose.

Local History Corner

Creswell News. Spring 1896.

Lantern lectures.

Lady Ottoline Bentinck visited Creswell a number of times to show slides in the school to illustrate stories such as "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and "Buy Your Own Cherries". These were followed by a series of bible pictures entitled "The Good Shepherd", scenes connected with Jesus' birth and early life. On some of these occasions she was accompanied by Mr. Dallas-Yorke.

(Lady Ottoline was the half sister of the 6th Duke of Portland. At a later date she married Philip Morrell a Liberal politician. She was involved with the Bloomsbury Group of writers in London. She and her husband lived at Garsington Manor in Oxfordshire but both are buried in the churchyard at Holbeck).

The Colliery

Sinking operations in No.1 shaft had resulted in coal being reached, then No.2 shaft reached the same seam which was about two yards thickness and of excellent quality. Each shaft was over 445 yards in depth. Engines capable of winding from 3,000 tons to 4,000 tons daily had been fixed in the engine houses and 10 boilers fitted with all the latest labour saving apparatus. The workmen storekeepers already occupied the shops and offices and work was rapidly being pushed on. The Colliery yard was to be entered by sidings from the Midland and East to West Railway Companies, the latter was to erect a station in close proximity to the Colliery.

Creswell Village.

Work was rapidly taking place by Messrs Siskin of Bolsover and Mr. Smith of Newark who had contracts in hand for 120 workmen's cottages. The contract for drains and sewage were in the hands of Mr. Cosham of Newark. The number of houses in the village when completed would be over 400. The village would be complete in itself and be provided with a club, co-operative stores and schools.

Building was being carried on in the old village. Mr. Frank BInge of the Post Office had lately put up six well appointed houses together with a shop and Mr. James Stubbins was about to erect a row of cottages opposite those of Mr. Binge. (King Street) The school in the village would shortly have to be enlarged as it was becoming very overcrowded.
